

Irina Vladimirovna Abakumova

E-mail:

abakira@mail.ru

ivabakumova@sfedu.ru

Chairperson, corresponding member of RAE, doctor of psychological sciences, professor.

In 1984 she graduated from a psychology department of RSU, since 1986 she is a staff lecturer of a general psychology chair of RSU psychology department, since 1989 she is a candidate of pedagogic sciences, since 1998 she is a docent of a psychophysiology and clinical psychology chair of RSU, since January, 23, 2004 she is a professor of a psychophysiology and clinical psychology chair of RSU, since 2003 she is a doctor of psychological sciences, since June, 2006 she is a chairperson of "General psychology" of RSU psychology department (nowadays is a chair of general and pedagogical psychology of SFU).

Rewards list:

- An award winner of the Russian Government in the education field of 2010 as a part of a writing team for making the works cyclus "Formation of affirmations of tolerant behaviors and prevention measures of xenophobia risks in the system of the general education".
- An award winner of board of education of Rostov-on-Don.
- A winner of the international competition "The best scientific book in the humane field" of 2014. Nomination: pedagogics, theory and methods of training and education.

Irina Abakumova is a member of psychologists community of the European Union EuroPsy, a member of the Russian psychological community, a member of an association of the applied psychologists of Russia, a member of ERO Presidium on the psychological sciences, a chairman of the regional ERO on psychology, a member of the All-Russian social organization "Federation of psychologists of the Russian education", a deputy chief editor of "The Russian psychological journal" (from VAK list), a deputy chief editor of the journal "The North Caucasian psychological reporter", a member of the international editorial board "The news of the Southern Federal University, a member of the editorial board of the all-Russian scientific journal "Humane, social and economic and social sciences".

Irina Abakumova is an expert of:

- KIAS "An expert review of education projects",
- contest committee "Stimulation of the best teachers" (Ministry of the general and professional education of the Rostov region),
- Federal watchdog agency in the field of education and science (an expert in the field of conducting of the state certification of the educational establishment and scientific organization).

She is a chairperson of the specialized board on the defence of candidate's and doctoral theses D - 212.208.27 (the Southern Federal University).

As a permanent member I.V. Abakumova takes part in the work of the thesis boards: D-212.208.04 (the Southern Federal University), D-212.101.06 (Kuban state university).

She is a member of the VAK expert board on psychology and pedagogics.

Under I.V. Abakumova's leadership were defended:

- more than 100 diploma papers of specialists;
- more than 20 master's theses;
- more than 35 candidate's theses;
- 4 doctoral theses.

She is an author of more than 200 publications in which the content of the training process is examined in the notional and didactic interpretation, a sense-making potential of the different educational technologies is detected, the bases of the notional and didactic modelling.

The basic scientific interests: a problem of sense-making, a problem of personnel selection and professional suitability of persons, working in the security services, informational technologies in the diagnostic and correctional work with children and teenagers, acceleration and retardation in education and development, psychodidactics, psychology of sense and notional pedagogics, tolerance in multicultural education environment, life-purpose strategies of children and youth, life values and peculiarities of person's notional realization.

The basic courses: «Pedagogical psychology», «Thinking and speech», «Communicative technologies of the directed notional translation», «Technologies of direct and indirect impact onto a person's axiological sphere», «Theory of notional initiation».