

44.04.01. Teacher Education

"MODERN TECHNOLOGIES OF PHILOLOGICAL EDUCATION"

The head of the educational program is a professor Igor A. Kudryashov, Doctor of Philology, Professor of the Theory of Language and Russian Language Department. igalk@mail.ru

PROGRAM CONTENT

Aim: to prepare highly qualified specialists with professional knowledge of Linguistics, Methodology, Pedagogy, Psychology and Training for people with disabilities.

The main courses:

Theory and methods of teaching Russian in a multi-ethnic and multicultural educational environment;

E-learning and M-learning in teaching Russian as a foreign language;

Final control: new approaches to determining the content of the Russian State Exams, technologies and evaluating the results;

The main approaches to learning the Russian language and literature of students with disabilities;

Organization of work with gifted children: theory and practice.

ADVANTAGES OF THE PROGRAM

The program involves systematic seminars and trainings with undergraduates, project activities, work of discussion clubs on problematic issues of the Russian State Exams on the Russian language, literature and Russian as a foreign language.

PERSPECTIVES OF EMPLOYMENT

Graduates of the program will be able to teach Russian, literature and Russian as a foreign language at schools, gymnasiums, colleges, lyceums, specialized secondary and higher educational institutions in Russia and abroad.

PROGRAM PARTNERS

Leading schools, gymnasiums and lyceums of Rostov-on-Don