

Evgeny Krinko, born in 1968, Doctor (History).

Graduated from the Adygei State Pedagogical Institute (Faculty of History) in 1992. Defended his PhD thesis in 1997 “Occupation regime in the Kuban (1942 – 1943) (specialization – national history), in 2004 – Doctor thesis “North-West Caucasus during the Great Patriotic War: problems of historiography and source studies” (specialization – historiography, source studies and methods of historical research).

Chief researcher at the laboratory of history and ethnography of the “Federal Research Centre the Southern Scientific Centre of the Russian Academy of Sciences” (Rostov-on-Don, Russian Federation). Professor of the Department of the Russian History of the XX – early XXI centuries at the Southern Federal University. Specialist in social history and everyday life of the Soviet era, military historical anthropology, historiography, source study and methodology of historical research. Editor-in-chief of the Russian historical journal “Russian Archive”. Author of more than 470 scientific works, including 20 individual and collective monographs. Among them: “The Everyday Life of the Soviet Man of 1920–1940s: the Life in the Conditions of Social Transformations” (Rostov-on-Don: SSC RAS Publishers, 2011. 360 p. (in Russian, in collaboration), “Russian North Caucasus: Historical Experience Management and the Formation of the Region’s Borders” (Rostov-on-Don: SSC RAS Publishers, 2012. 272 p., in Russian, in collaboration), “The Decline of the Population in the USSR from 1937 to 1945: Entities, Forms, Historiography” (Florence GoWare, 2016. 422 p., in Italian, in collaboration).